

Donor Recognition at the Hebrew University

Wall of Benefactors. At the southwestern tip of the Mount Scopus campus, overlooking the Old City and West Jerusalem. Inscribed is the name of the donor (or any other name, according to the donor's wishes) and the state the donor resides in (if American), or the country the donor resides in (for all non-American donors). For donations of US$1,000,000 or more, either one-time gifts or cumulative gifts, whether for physical facilities, research, scholarships, or any other purpose. A dedication ceremony may be held at any time, in accordance with the donor's wishes, although most new inscriptions are dedicated during the annual meeting of the Board of Governors.

Wall of Life. At the southeastern tip of the Mount Scopus campus, overlooking the Old City and West Jerusalem. Inscribed is the name of the donor (or any other name, according to the donor's wishes) and the state the donor resides in (if American), or the country the donor resides in (for all non-American donors). For donations of US$100,000 - US$999,999 earmarked for scholarships or research (i.e., not physical facilities). A dedication ceremony may be held at any time, in accordance with the donor's wishes, although most new inscriptions are dedicated during the annual meeting of the Board of Governors.

Wall of Trustees. Located in the Mount Scopus Forum on the wall closest to the outdoor pedestrian exit in the direction of the Faculty of Social Sciences, and on the wall adjacent to the passage leading to the Faculty of Law. Inscribed is the name of the donor, or any other name of his/her choosing; states, countries, etc. may also be inscribed. For donations of US$50,000 - US$99,999 for scholarships or research (i.e. not physical facilities). A dedication ceremony may be held at any time, in accordance with the donor's wishes.

Mount Scopus Founders' Wall. Located in the Mount Scopus Forum on the large wall facing the courtyard between the Bloomfield Library and the Faculty of Humanities. Inscribed is the name of the donor, or any other name of his/her choosing; states, countries, etc. may also be inscribed. For donations of US$25,000 - US$50,000 for scholarships or research (i.e. not physical facilities). A dedication ceremony may be held at any time, in accordance with the donor's wishes.

Wall of Endowed Chairs. Located in the Mount Scopus Forum adjacent to the entrance to the Administration Building. Listed are all professorial chairs at the Hebrew University, with the name of chair, name of donor, country and date of establishment. A new section was recently added adjacent to the first section.

Physical Facilities Plaques for endowed physical facilities are almost always located on, near, or in the vicinity of the facility that has been named. The size, location and style of the plaque depend upon the facility itself. A plaque for the donation of a garden might be a large engraved stone, while donor recognition for an entire building could take the form of the donor's name engraved on the outside wall of the building. Plaques for lectures halls and rooms are usually placed in the corridor outside the facility.
